

ROUTES PLANNED FOR BIG PARADES ON ST. PATRICK'S

Straight Up Fifth Avenue
This Year in Manhattan.

SCHMITTBERGER IS O. K.

The A. O. H. Satisfied With Big Max to Boss the Arrangements.

The route of the St. Patrick's Day parade this year has been planned by Grand Marshal Murphy of the Ancient Order of Hibernians so as to eliminate the necessity of turning off Fifth Avenue at Fiftieth street, and rounding at Fifty-first street to get back on Fifth Avenue. This detail had been followed for many years so as to bring the parade past the archiepiscopal residence on Madison Avenue, where Archbishop Farley and his predecessors reviewed it.

There was usually a very congested crowd in that loop and always danger of a panic. This year there will be a grand stand in front of St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Fifth Avenue, on which the Archbishop and invited guests will view the parade as it swings up Fifth Avenue to One Hundred and Twentieth street from the starting point at Fortieth street.

Schmittberger Gets O. K.

There were rumors yesterday at Commissioner Cooper's selection of Max Schmittberger to take charge of the police arrangements for the parade. Max was told of this and he laughed. "Why, my wife was a County Mayo woman," said he. "Isn't that letting me in on the Irish end of it? She was the better and the bigger half of my house, God rest her soul."

And as County Treasurer Mike Carolan gave Max an invitation to the great picnic of the A. O. H. in Harlem River Casino which will follow the parade.

Borough President George S. McAnany will review the First Regiment of the Irish Volunteers at their reception and ball in Grand Central Palace on St. Patrick's night. This will be one of the great functions of the celebration.

Brooklyn's Big Day.

"Big Jimmy" Quinn, the Police Inspector in charge in Brooklyn, will have the management of the St. Patrick's Day parade in that borough. A permit for a parade of not less than 10,000 persons was issued by the Police Department to the officials of the Ancient Order of Hibernians who said they expected to have 15,000 men in line.

The parade will start at 2:45 from Bedford and Division Avenues. It will proceed through Bedford to Wiloughby Avenue to Cumberland street to Greene Avenue to Fulton street to Hanson place, to Flatbush Avenue, to New York street, to Schermerhorn street, to Hoyt street, to State street, to Sydney place, to Joralemon street, to Court street and back to Schermerhorn street, to Smith street, where it will disperse.

As in New York and in fact as everywhere in the wide world there will be dinners, dances and balls by the score. The big reception will be in Saengerbund Hall.

Mrs. Charles C. Darwin Dead.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Mrs. Charles C. Darwin, historian general and a charter member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and for years vice-president general of the Children of the American Revolution, died at her home here yesterday. She was a native of Middlebury, Vt.

Russians See Peace Sign.
ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—There are unconfirmed rumors that the interview which M. Korostovetz, the Russian Minister at Peking, had with the Prince Regent yesterday made more probable a peaceful outcome of the negotiations between the two countries.

Cammeyer
Stamped on a
Shoe means
Standard Merit
6" Ave. & 20" St.
America's Largest Shoe Store.

Women's Spring Shoes

We create every season the Best of the New Shoe Styles. And combine with the dictates of Fashion thorough Comfort and Satisfactory Wear.

All leathers in a wide variety of models. Prices

$5.00 and $5.50

We particularly feature the Tan Russia Calf Button and Lace as the Leading Walking Boots.

New Spring Cammeyer "Style Book" Mailed Free Upon Request.

TAX ON MRS. EDDY'S ESTATE SOUGHT BY BAY STATE

Christian Science Founder Was
Resident of Massachusetts
Is New Claim.

BOSTON, March 15.—The question of the right of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science denomination, to bequeath the residue of her estate estimated at $2,000,000 to the church in view of the Massachusetts statute which prohibits bequests carrying an income of more than $2,000, was being argued before the Supreme Court today, when Attorney-General James F. Swift asked that the suit in which the question was involved be suspended until the question of the legal domicile of Mrs. Eddy at the time of her death could be determined.

The Attorney-General's request was made through the counsel for the plaintiffs in the case in the midst of its argument, and it was further stated that the State would claim that Mrs. Eddy was a resident of Massachusetts and that this commonwealth was entitled to all taxes on her property as the result of her death at Newton.

Gen. Henry M. Baker of Bow, N. H., the executor of the Eddy will, holds that Mrs. Eddy was a resident of Concord, N. H., and that that State is entitled to the tax.

Before the postponement of the case before the Massachusetts Supreme Court was granted by Chief Justice Knowlton, Samuel J. Elder said that the defendants as stockholders have no other interest except to discharge their trust in a legal manner, and to see that the testatrix's charitable purpose is carried out in a lawful and proper way.

The direct issue involved in the suit is the conveyance of two pieces of property, one in Boston and the other in Newton.

Both were bequeathed to Messrs. McChel-

SKIDOO TO A CELL FOR HIM BECAUSE OF HIS 23 PUZZLE

Young Man's Land Gifts Look
Like Fraud to Post-Office Inspectors.

Harry Davidson, a dapper young man of twenty-one years, devised a "skidoo" puzzle to advertise several thousand lots he owns near Quogue, Long Island, and today he was arrested by Post Office Inspectors Crowell, O'Brien and Reddy on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The advertisement attracted the attention of Mrs. G. Milton Hoyt of East Orange, N. J., and after she had "solved the puzzle" at an expense of $30 she reported the case to the authorities. Davidson has an office at No. 111 Nassau street, this city. His "ad" was a box containing nine empty spaces.

"Place in each space any number from 1 to 9, so that when added in either direction the total will be 25," were the directions.

To those solving the problem Davidson said he would award two full-size lots, adding "the only cost to you is the attorney's fee of $30, which is the charge for drawing the necessary papers."

According to the authorities the lots are practically worthless. The tract, took the papers.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

SKIDOO TO A CELL FOR HIM BECAUSE OF HIS 23 PUZZLE

Young Man's Land Gifts Look
Like Fraud to Post-Office Inspectors.

Harry Davidson, a dapper young man of twenty-one years, devised a "skidoo" puzzle to advertise several thousand lots he owns near Quogue, Long Island, and today he was arrested by Post Office Inspectors Crowell, O'Brien and Reddy on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The advertisement attracted the attention of Mrs. G. Milton Hoyt of East Orange, N. J., and after she had "solved the puzzle" at an expense of $30 she reported the case to the authorities. Davidson has an office at No. 111 Nassau street, this city. His "ad" was a box containing nine empty spaces.

"Place in each space any number from 1 to 9, so that when added in either direction the total will be 25," were the directions.

To those solving the problem Davidson said he would award two full-size lots, adding "the only cost to you is the attorney's fee of $30, which is the charge for drawing the necessary papers."

According to the authorities the lots are practically worthless. The tract, took the papers.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.

WORKINGMEN BURIED
BY FALLING WALLS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 15.—Between fifteen and twenty workmen engaged in tearing down the old brick and stone apartment of the J. H. Fall & Co. building on Third Avenue, near the public square, were caught by falling walls today. Every available ambulance was rushed to the scene of the disaster and a score or more of volunteers, among them Mayor Houser, assisted the firemen in clearing away the debris.

Probably twelve or fifteen of the workmen, who were mostly negroes, will not be brought out alive.